

At SYS TEC everyone is welcome

For better and easier readability, we use the masculine form in many texts when referring to persons.

This abbreviated representation is purely for editorial reasons and should not be understood as a value judgment.

The corresponding terms apply equally to all genders in the sense of equal treatment.

In accordance with the principle of equal treatment, the relevant terms apply equally to all genders.

We want everyone to feel equally addressed by the content of our website.

That is why we are constantly working to improve our website for you.
